Participants Feedback and Evaluation Results (27 February, 2026)

 # Evaluation of the Erasmus+ project
 # Project Meeting in Lithuania

Following the Erasmus+ project meeting “Climate is Changing, What About Us?” in Joniškis, Lithuania, participants completed an online evaluation questionnaire. A total of 23 participants took part in the survey: 17 students and 6 teachers from Lithuania, Greece, Italy and Guadeloupe.

The results showed a very high level of satisfaction with the meeting. The overall project week received an average score of 4.74 out of 5, while the organisation of the programme was rated even higher, with an average of 4.87. Participants also highly valued the activities and workshops, which received an average score of 4.65.

The meeting successfully involved participants in practical and creative activities. The feeling of active involvement was rated 4.83 out of 5, while the project workshops, including stop-motion movie production, audio recording and project diary activities, received an average score of 4.65.

The Erasmus+ mobility also contributed to participants’ language and environmental awareness. The improvement of English and communication skills was rated 4.65, while the increase in understanding of climate change issues received 4.61.

Educational visits were another important part of the programme. The visits to Šiauliai and the Hill of Crosses and to Vilnius both received an average score of 4.78. The visit to Žagarė was rated 4.70, while the meeting at the Parliament of Lithuania received 4.65. Participants particularly appreciated the opportunity to discuss environmental policies directly with Lithuanian Members of Parliament.

The survey also highlighted the importance of informal communication and social activities. These received an average score of 4.83, and many participants mentioned friendships, shared experiences and intercultural communication as the most valuable outcomes of the meeting.

Participants reported gaining a deeper understanding of how climate change affects different countries in different ways. They also emphasised the importance of international cooperation and taking action together. Many students mentioned that they would take home new friendships, memories, ideas, inspiration and new skills, including experience in creating a stop-motion film.

The cultural dimension of the meeting was also strongly appreciated. Participants learned about Lithuanian history, nature, traditions, food and everyday life. Several participants highlighted the friendliness and hospitality of Lithuanian people.

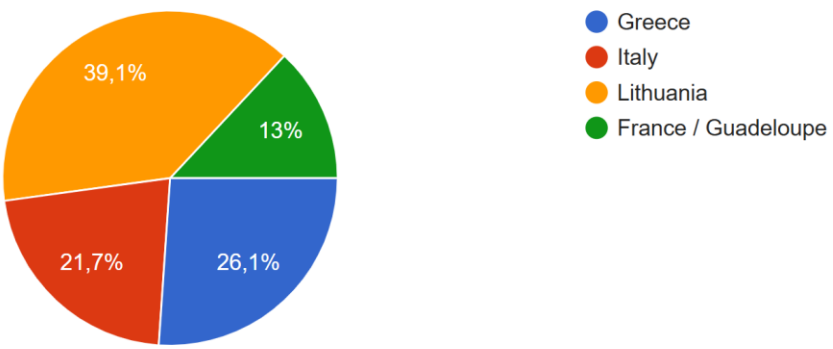

Overall, the evaluation demonstrates that the meeting in Lithuania successfully combined creative project work, environmental education, cultural learning and international cooperation. The very positive feedback confirms that the activities helped participants develop new skills, strengthen friendships and increase their awareness of climate change and the importance of working together to address global environmental challenges.

What new things did you learn about climate change?

23 atsakymai

I learned that climate change is accelerating more than expected, with extreme events increasingly frequent. It is essential to raise awareness among young people and strengthen cooperation between all countries in the world to protect the planet together.

I learned about new climate change dangers and some new alternatives that can help battle it.

About other countries climate change activities.

About other countries situations.

During this exchange project I learned that climate change affects each country in different ways. For example, in Guadeloupe there are stronger hurricanes and rising sea levels, while in Italy and Greece heatwaves and wildfires are major issues. In Lithuania, people notice changes in seasons and ecosystems. I also learned that even if our countries are different, we share the same responsibility and we can work together to find sustainable solutions.

I learned that we have to do something

About sargassum

I learned that seaweed in Guadeloupe is really dangerous for health

different outcomes of climate change in the various participating partner countries

The importance for every country to work together

Different environmental problems countries face

That it affects our life even if we don't see it or feel it yet

We must all work together to make a difference.

That’s it’s affecting all of our lives more and more

We need to work together more

That we can stop climate change

It’s a very serious problem and that we have to take action

Deepen my knowledge

It's really something that affects every country and if nobody doesn't do anything we are going to have a really big problem

That we all together in Europe can act and handle against climate change.

That sometimes cities that usually have snow during winter can be without the snow

That it is indeed a global problem and Lithuania is trying its best to solve it

What will you take with you from this experience (skills, friendships, ideas, inspiration)?

23 atsakymai

Friendships

I will bring with me new educational ideas, more motivation and precious international friendships. The comparison with teachers from different countries enriched me a lot and confirmed how important it is to involve and motivate students on the issue of climate change. The Stop Motion activity has shown how much collaboration between students can make a difference

I think I will take new friendships and new ideas regarding climate change.

Skills and friendships.

Friendships and inspiration.

Thanks to this exchange I will mainly take with me the relationships we built and the moments we shared. I learned how to adapt to new situations, listen to different perspectives, and collaborate more effectively. This experience showed me the importance of intercultural dialogue and gave me new ideas and more self-confidence.

Friendship and knowledge about climate change

No matter the language, you can always make good relationships with people

An excellent organization for all activities planned, ranging from relationships with partners, hospitality first and foremost, and ideas that lead to reflection on sustainability and what can still be done in various countries

New friendships and skills

Friendship , inspiration,ideas, skills

What did you learn about Lithuania and its culture?

23 atsakymai

I learned that Lithuania is a fascinating nation, rich in culture and traditions. I was struck by the friendliness, education, humility and strong civic sense of its population.

That Lithuanians are strong, for surviving the cold.

I remembered that Lithuania is very unique country.

Now I can understand better how Lithuanian parliament works.

During this project, I learned that Lithuania has a culture deeply connected to its traditions, nature, and history. I discovered the importance of traditional festivals, folk music, and a strong sense of national identity.
I was impressed by the respect for the environment and the connection with forests and natural landscapes. I also learned that Lithuanians may seem reserved at first, but they are very welcoming and kind.

Very clean

They are very kind, polite people, organized for the best development of their country also with rules regarding sustainability, a great discovery and experience

I learnt much about Lithuanian language, food and way of living

History, nature,every day life. Working system of the school

I better understood how the parlament worked

Lithuanian people are friendly.

That the people are very welcoming and friendly

That it is beautiful

That Lithuania has amazing food

It is my counyry

That is cold but has the most worm people

I leraned a lot about its history .

Everyone here is very polite, friendly and kind

A cold country but with very warm people

I learned that Lithuanian people are very nice and kind

What could be improved in future Erasmus+ meetings?

19 atsakymų

In future Erasmus+ meetings, the moments of socialization and greater involvement among students during work activities could be increased, to promote collaboration and more authentic exchange.

I will make more friendships.

Everything is awesome

I can’t think of anything.

In my opinion, Erasmus+ meetings are already very well organized. The activities are varied and interesting, and there is a good balance between work and social time.
Maybe even more sharing moments between students could be added, but overall the experience was very positive and well structured.

I think they should last longer

Activities

Activities

More active activities, games

Maintain this propensity to build good relationships between partner groups to best promote learning from activities and continue friendships in the future

Could be added some more activities during afternoons

More days maybe

It was unfprtunate that there was not a lot of free time in which families could be together more and show something on their own

Nothing

Everything was good

Everything is perfect

Everything is ok

I think that maybe we could stay more days in every country

How can we improve a thing if it’s perfect ?
